THE SITUATION.

[To the Editor of the Interior Journal.]

Just now, as is customary about the beginning of each recurring presidential campaign, the know-alls of the two great parties are predicting with perfect confidence a glorious victory for their respective candidates at the next November election. It would be impolite to say that these cheerful predictions are made merely for their stimulating effect, yet a survey of the political field does not reveal to an ordinary observer any substantial basis for such prophetic conclusions with regard to the one side or the other.

In the last three races for president the States of New York, New Jersey, Connecticut and Indiana constituted the battle-ground; and no change in the political situation, known to me, has occurred to make those States any less the theatre of the conflict of this year than they were in the years mentioned. Assuming this view of the matter to be correct, let us speculate a little on the probabilities. The four States named have electoral votes as follows: New York 36, New Jersey 9, Connecticut 6 and Indiana 15—in all 66 votes. Outside of these States the democrats have 153 certain electoral votes, while the republicans have 182. The whole number of electoral votes in the Union being 401, it takes 201 to elect the president and therefore the democrats must, in order to succeed, get 48 votes out of these four doubtful States, while the republicans only need to get from that source 19 votes. In order to get the required 48 votes the democrats must carry New York and Indiana, or losing Indiana, they must have New York, New Jersey and Connecticut. In no event can they win without New York, as the remaining three doubtful States together have only 30 electoral votes.

As the republicans want only 19 votes to make the requisite 201 they can elect with New York alone, or, if they lose New York, they can win by carrying Indiana and New Jersey only, or by carrying New York and New Jersey and Connecticut. These suggestions make the republican chances appear considerably better than the democratic, but it must be borne in mind that this apparent advantage depends alone upon the fact that the republicans will go into these doubtful States with a much larger electoral vote than the democrats will. The next natural inquiry is, which party is the stronger in the four disputed States? In 1876 Tilden carried all of them; in 1880 Garfield carried all of them, except New Jersey, and in 1884 Cleveland carried all of them. While it is fair to claim all of them as democratic under favorable conditions, yet, owing to chronic factional divisions in the ranks, in New York, and the narrowness of the margin in the three others, it is but candid to admit that the four States may be properly classed as doubtful. In New York the democracy united a majority of from 15,000 to 30,000 may be confidently expected in any contest. But unfortunately harmony in the democratic party in that State can never be confidently expected. There is discord there now which may culminate in disaster to the cause in the approaching race. Since 1884 the democrats carried the State in two races, electing the governor. In 1885 by about 10,000 majority, and the Secretary of State in 1887 by 17,000 majority, while in 1886, in the Congressional election, they suffered considerable reverses there as they did generally throughout the Union. Though the majority of 17,000 at the last November election seems and is quite large, viewed in the abstract, yet when considered in its relation to the tremendous aggregate vote of the State (about 1,200,000) it will appear to be very inconsiderable, being in fact only about 14 per cent. of the whole vote; and therefore a change against the democracy of 14 votes in a hundred would wipe out the 17,000 majority completely.

Now, assuming that Cleveland is to be the democratic candidate, as he inevitably will be—unless, like Blaine, he beats a retreat—can he carry the State of New York? That is the vitally essential question of the whole case, for without that State the democracy must surely fail. Is he stronger or weaker in that locality now than he was in 1884, when he carried it by a scratch, so to speak? The great number of influential men whom he has brought under obligation to himself by appointing them to office, together with many others whom he may by similar means attach to his cause during the present term, ought to be and certainly is an important element of strength which he did not possess in 1884. To this source of additional strength may be added that which arises from a certain proclivity—rather heathenish, to be sure, but nevertheless prevalent the world over—to worship the king and the king's wife, including her winning ways and her pretty garments. If there be anything besides what has been stated to make him stronger as a candidate in New York or elsewhere now than he was in 1884 I am not aware of it. As to how these matters add to his ability to command votes, it would be idle to speculate.

Now, has anything occurred since 1884 to weaken Mr. Cleveland in New York? It must be kept in mind that the contest in that State is to be decided almost exclusively by the vote in New York and Brooklyn cities, especially the former. The democracy of New York City is composed of two powerful factions—the county democracy and Tammany. These factions are implacably hostile to each other. Though they do sometimes make pro tem treaties—that is, agreements to act together at particular elections, conditioned upon a specified division of the offices between themselves, yet such unions are only for the time being, and as soon as the elections are over they resume their former attitude of mutual hostility. The Tammany men don't love Cleveland. They opposed his nomination violently in 1884, and gave him but a half-hearted support at the election. This Cleveland has resented in various ways; among others by giving to the county democracy the lion's share of his patronage in New York, and by appointing to a high and honorable position Gen. Bragg, the man who grossly insulted the Tammany men in the Chicago convention. Gov. Hill is their candidate and he wants to be president. Although no noise is made about it a vigorous fight is now going on in that State between Cleveland and Hill.

The Tammany organization is largely composed of Irishmen, the old followers of the renowned John Kelly, and they, of course, all deeply sympathize with their kindred and friends in the "auld" country in their desperate struggle against British tyranny. It is said that the treaty with Great Britain concerning the extradition of fugitives, recently negotiated by Mr. Bayard and approved by Mr. Cleveland, contains a stipulation for the rendition of Irish political offenders who have taken or who may hereafter take refuge in America. If this should turn out to be true and the fact becomes public, as it surely will, it will exasperate the Irish beyond all possible reconciliation. This report, however, may be only a campaign lie; and I hope it is.

The Irish population of New York, as elsewhere, consists largely, if not mainly, of laborers, and as is not unnatural, they are not apt to be particularly captivated or fascinated by the free trade ideas which are now so current in political circles, and which were made rather conspicuous in a recent message of the President. Tammany Hall, at a meeting very lately, gave expression to views on that subject quite at variance with those set forth in the message.

Mr. C. has increased the ill-will of the Union soldiers by the harsh expressions employed in his message vetoing the pension bill of last session, and by his flag oration, and on these accounts he will lose some votes. This loss, however, will be discounted more or less by the effect of the President's disposition, as evidenced by that message, to put a stop to the incessant and alarming raids of the pensioners on the national treasury. By thus enumerating what I suppose to be some of the elements of strength gained by Mr. Cleveland since his election, and what I suppose to be some reasons for a diminution of that strength, I have not attempted, nor will I attempt, to solve the problem whether or not, all things considered, he can command more votes in New York or elsewhere now than he did in 1884, but my object has been merely to show how difficult of solution that problem is, and how unreasonable and unreliable are the prophecies of the know-alls. J. B. March 1888.

MATRIMONIAL MATTERS.

—The net increase of the membership of the Methodist Episcopal church during the year 1888 was 110,000.

—A wedding party returning from the ceremony in 16 carriages were drowned, bride, groom and all, in the Danube, at Neasatz.

—Prince Oscar, of Sweden, has married Miss Ebba Munck, who has no royal blood in her veins, which act takes away his rank as prince and reduces him to the common herd. This is giving up a good deal for love.

—Rev. John Hall, of New York, has received $30,000 since last September in marriage fees. One man gave him $5,000 for tying the nuptial knot and the next we hear of the fool will probably be when he offers some lawyer twice that amount to un-marry him.

—If Col. W. O. Bradley wants the republican vice-presidential nomination, let every Kentuckian assist him in getting it. It can do the democratic party no harm and will advertise Kentucky immensely. Whoop up the Bradley boom!—[Owensboro Messenger.]

Syrup of Figs

Is Nature's own true laxative. It is the most easily taken, and the most effective remedy known to cleanse the System when Bilious or Costive; to dispel Headaches, Colds, and Fevers; to Cure Habitual Constipation, Indigestion, Piles, etc. Manufactured only by the California Fig Syrup Company, San Francisco, Cal.

For sale by A. R. Penny, Stanford.

LANCASTER, GARRARD COUNTY.

—Mrs. James Pumphrey, who has been quite ill, is much better.

—Allen Beazley bought of S. A. Hill, of Buckeye, a 3-year-old horse for $132.50.

—There will be a large crop of tobacco raised in this county this coming season.

—Capt. T. A. Elkin has recently lost a fine brood mare and a young thoroughbred colt.

—Mrs. Sabra Walker, the wife of Arch Walker, of this county, is dangerously ill and not expected to live.

—Mrs. R. H. Fox has removed to Miller & Sandifer's property on Danville st., known as Franklin Institute.

—On Thursday last Mr. Hughes, of Boyle, was married at the residence of A. G. Scott, in Lancaster, to Miss Totten, of this county.

—George Denny, Sr., writing from Laurel county, says he is much pleased with the coal mine which he is developing out there. I trust he has a regular bonanza.

—John W. Miller proved himself a good Samaritan by his treatment of Jack Grimes, after he was wounded. He had him removed to his residence and gave him every attention possible.

—There seems to be no doubt, sure enough, that the wheat is badly injured. I thought it a false alarm at first, but it is a fact. From present prospects there will be not more than half a crop.

—Jack Grimes died on Saturday night at 2 o'clock. His remains were buried in the Lancaster cemetery Monday morning. The examining trial of Chas. White, his slayer, was to be had yesterday.

—Ed Hume and Wm. Embury, of Silver Creek, were in the city Sunday. They had with them their valuable stallion, which is a half brother to Maud S., taking him to Danville to show there yesterday.

—Walker Landrum wants to learn the name of the friend who invented such names as "hen fruit" for eggs, "cow grease" for butter, "hog grease" for lard, etc. He proposes to do him up, if he can catch up with him.

—A letter from John H. Woodcock says Bob Gibson is beyond hope. He is paralyzed and lies in a speechless stupor. If he dies Somerset will have suffered a long beyond reparation. He is the most public spirited man of that or almost any other town.

KINGSVILLE.

—Harry Watts' hand was badly lacerated a few days since by the explosion of an old gun which he was handling.

—Messrs. Glass and Johnson are erecting a nice and commodious store house here, which will add greatly to the appearance of our town.

—The land trade is still the topic of the day. Two sales reported by the real estate agent this week ending Saturday, March 17, one of which was in Pulaski county.

—Tusco Waters, of this place, who has been firing an engine at tunnel No. 10 on the C. & S., was brought home Friday very badly scalded, caused by a plug melting out of the boiler.

—Your valuable issue of Friday last has been extensively borrowed by non subscribers in order to read the road act, which so heartily receives the approval of the people of this end of old Lincoln.

—Samuel Reid has about abandoned the idea of moving to Texas and it is now thought he will locate in our village. W. H. Young starts to Missouri Monday, the 19th. He will be the second party who has left the county who has sold during the real estate boom this year.

—Thomas Y. Morrison will take possession of the Hazeldean farm on about April 1st. He hails from Newcastle, Pa. Willis Clove is improving the Palace Grove farm by building a two-story residence, &c. William H. Clove has contracted with the carpenters to build him a dwelling on his farm near town. So far as the writer can find out all the new comers are good prohibition democrats.

Gov. McCreary has made the finest Congressman that the democracy has ever chosen in that district. With mental force, oratorical power and able statesmanship, he has made a most enviable reputation among the learned men of our national representatives—of high principles, strictest integrity and withal an eye for the interest and welfare of his constituents, which is praiseworthy and pleasing to him and them. As long as such men are chosen to represent the State of Kentucky we need have no fear of aught detrimental to our success and progress.—[Lexington Press.]

—The Grand Detour Plow Works were partially burned Tuesday night, involving a loss of $100,000 and the serious injury to two men.

The Most Agreeable

As well as the most effective method of dispelling Headaches, Colds, and Fevers, or Cleansing the System, is by taking a few doses of the pleasant California liquid fruit remedy, Syrup of Figs.

For sale by A. R. Penny, Stanford.

LONDON, LAUREL COUNTY.

—A fine saddle mare belonging to W. H. Jackson died Saturday night.

—John R. Hodge sold his handsome residence on Main street to James D. Smith.

—Misses Lizzie and Nellie Reid entertained quite a number of their friends Friday evening.

—Antonio Vogliotte, our enterprising baker, is now running a delivery wagon to Pittsburgh daily.

—The Swiss Lutheran church is to have a nice church building erected on the hill just south of town, on Sublimity street.

—A. L. Kirk, of Louisville, shipped a car-load of good mules from this place Wednesday, which he bought in this county and paid fair prices for.

—Dr. Caldwell and George Mason went to Rockcastle river Friday with reel and rod to catch on to some of the funny tribe, but they will get left, because Dr. Scates is not along with them.

—We thank your B. M. for his article on the beauty of our girls, but he must be mistaken about them wearing hoops, or he is a better inspector than we are, although some of them are hustlers on the bustle.

—Deputy United States Marshal Rogers arrived here Sunday evening from Perry and Leslie counties with six moonshine prisoners in charge and placed them with Jailer Phelps to await examining trial before Commissioner Faris.

—At the examining trial of Crawford and Morris before Squire Baker last week Crawford was held without bail, while Morris was held in a bond of $2,000. They tried before Judge R. Boyd Saturday on writ of habeas corpus and Crawford was again refused bail and Morris' bail was reduced to $1,000.

—Your scribe interviewed one of Bro. Slaughter's "captains," who says he has pleasant memories of the Whitley Branch campaign and also has a vivid recollection of the threshing they did on Aunt Fannie Jackson's ducks about the same time near "Camp Rabbit."

—Judge V. Boring was in Cincinnati and J. H. Craft in Richmond Friday. W. H. Carrier is back from a visit to Somerset. Fred Parsley left Sunday night on a business trip to Winchester. C. Brown went to Lebanon Saturday. Miss Lucy Bowman, of Beattyville, is with Mrs. Lucy Williams, in the millinery store. Mrs. Jones and Miss Fannie Jones, of Barboursville, are visiting Mrs. F. B. Riley. Evan Jones left Saturday to re-let mail contracts in Tennessee. Mr. Geo. Denny, Sr., of Lancaster, who is devoting some time to getting up a land company near Hazel Patch, was with us last week.

MT. VERNON, ROCKCASTLE COUNTY.

—Three cases of mumps at Dr. Brown's.

—Capt. R. D. Cook, of Conway, is very sick.

—A very large crop of oats will be put in.

—A large acreage has been sown in grass.

—William Thomson has rented the Miller & Denny farm.

—Lewis, a little son of John Frazer, Pittsburg, was buried here Friday.

—Judge Fish is but little better. John Proctor is about the same. Mrs. Pauline Smith is no better.

—Notwithstanding the bad weather a number of our farmers are well advanced with their plowing.

—F. L. Thompson and Robert Norton say they know of instances where lightning struck twice in the same place.

—J. B. Fish went to Barboursville Friday. J. W. Brown has returned from an important business trip to Louisville.

—E. B. Smith, formerly of this place, mail agent on the K. C., has made the best record of any of the newly appointed agents in the State.

—Dave Poynter, while engaged in drawing molasses Saturday, stepped to the door to see a dog fight, forgetting to return until most of the treacle had run out and covered the floor.

—Nate Shumate found one of his hogs in a sink hole near his house last week, after it had been therein 20 days. The animal was frisky and thirsty.

—William V. Reppert has been promoted under the civil service rules to chief pension examiner in the pension office, Washington. Salary $2,000.

—The entertainment, consisting of dialogues, recitations, etc., given by the members of the W. C. T. U., at the court-house Friday night, brought out a full attendance and all were pleased with the successful rendition of all the program. Brodhead sent up a good delegation.

Lives of great men all remind us that if we cannot do more, we can tell our neighbors how Ganter's chicken cholera cure restored our chickens, that were sick enough to die, to perfect health and that if it fails your money will be refunded by McRoberts & Stagg.

—There are 928,024 pupils in the public schools of the State of Pennsylvania. The cost of their tuition is nearly $6,000,000.

Worth Knowing.

Mr. W. H. Morgan, merchant, Lake City, Fla., was taken with a severe cold, attended with a distressing cough and running into Consumption in its first stages. He tried many so-called popular cough remedies and steadily grew worse. Was reduced in flesh, had difficulty in breathing and was unable to sleep. Finally tried Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption and found immediate relief, and after using about a half dozen bottles found himself well and has had no return of the disease. No other remedy can show so grand a record of cures as Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. Guaranteed to do just what is claimed for it.—Trial bottle free at A. R. Penny's Drug Store.

Renews Her Youth.

Mrs. Phoebe Chesley, Peterson, Clay Co., Iowa, tells the following remarkable story, the truth of which is vouched for by the residents of the town: "I am 73 years old, have been troubled with kidney complaint and lameness for many years; could not dress myself without help. Now I am free from pain and soreness and am able to do all my own housework. I owe my thanks to Electric Bitters for having renewed my youth and removed completely all disease and pain. Try a bottle, 50c and 5c at A. R. Penny's Drug Store."

W. P. WALTON.

We have been called colonel, major and captain repeatedly by ignorant persons, who were not aware of our real rank and who supposed that such titles tickled the vanity usually possessed by the human race. But if one thing does make a man madder than another, it is to be designated by an inferior title when he is entitled to a superior. The Mt. Sterling colonel, with whom we have been having some fun, lecturing him in regard to certain proprieties, does us the favor to give our real title—General—for which we thank him very sincerely, and hereby notify the public and all to whom these presents may come, that we are prepared to smash upon the snout any son-of-a-gun who calls us by a lower title than we are entitled to.

BRO. NICHOLS, of the Danville Tribune, denies that Gen. Landram edits his paper, but admits that he is a frequent contributor to its columns upon matters of national importance only. He then attempts to wither us by stating that it is reported that Col. Welch writes many of the bright and shining editorials which appear in this paper. Right you are for once young man. We employ Col. Welch at $10,000 a year to do both the fancy writing and the fighting for the establishment and the first time you print anything that you ought not, we shall send him down and have him snatch your red head bald. He stands 6 feet 3 and weighs 230, so beware.

The record of terrible railroad accidents continues to grow. Scarcely a day passes without one of more or less magnitude. The worst of recent date occurred on the Savannah, Florida & Western in Georgia Saturday, when a whole train dashed through a trestle carrying death and destruction with it. Twenty-five passengers were killed outright and 40 or more seriously wounded. The accident is supposed to have been caused by the breaking of the truck of the baggage car which struck the trestle crosswise, knocking it down. Jay Gould's son, George, and wife are among the wounded.

The United States District Court at Omaha has decided that the engineers of the Union Pacific can quit work when they please, if they do not wish to haul Burlington freight, but to strike by concerted action for the purpose of preventing the road from exchanging freight is a conspiracy and punishable under the Interstate law by a fine of not less than $1,000 and confinement not less than six months, or both. The decision was rendered in the injunction suit brought by the Burlington to force the Union Pacific to receive and transport its freight.

THE candidacy of Chief Justice W. S. Pryor to succeed himself is announced in this issue. No more high-toned, honorable or painstaking judge has ever sat upon the bench of Kentucky's highest court and his unimpeachable character and high legal attainments have added increased respect for the tribunal over which he presides. The election occurs next August.

GEN. ADAM BADEAU, who accompanied Gen. Grant on his tour around the world and wrote his memoirs, has created somewhat of a sensation by instituting suit against the dead general's estate for $35,000, the value he places upon his services. This seems a pretty high figure to try to get out of an estate, which has been thought to be bankrupt.

THE sentiment of Kentucky republicans seems to be for John Sherman for President. Col. A. M. Swope, an out and out Sherman man, defeated George Denny, a Blaineite, 52 to 32 in Lexington Saturday, for delegate for the State at large to the National republican convention.

THE Covington Commonwealth says: "The Louisville Times has a picture of Mike Sauley trying to look indifferent. At any rate, the likeness is about as indifferent as could be reasonably expected." THE INTERIOR JOURNAL published the only correct picture of the Wyoming judge.

JUDGE TONEY, of Louisville, has decided in the case of the Mason-Forde Co. vs. the Main Jellico Mountain Co., that it is unconstitutional to work convicts in coal mines and that the legislature cannot authorize such hiring out of men condemned to hard labor in the penitentiary.

G. C. THOMAS has bought the Mount Cello Signal and its former editor, T. Leigh Thompson, will devote his entire time to his school. It is to be hoped the new editor will pay more attention to local news than has been customary with the paper.

WHAT can the prohibitionists hope to do by running a man for Congress, save to help a republican defeat McCleary? And what could a prohibition Congress-man accomplish more than our Congress-man has accomplished?

UNDER the head of "Editorial Comment" the Covington Commonwealth is getting up a very entertaining column of remarks upon matters clippings from the State exchanges.

LEGISLATIVE DOINGS.

—The legislature has again extended the session, this time to April 16.

—The Senate refused to increase the salary of the Secretary of State from $1,500 to $2,500.

—The House by a vote of 26 to 4 passed a bill to prohibit newspapers from publishing lottery advertisements.

—The House passed a bill to pay officers the same rewards for arresting horse thieves as are paid to other persons.

—The Senate passed the bill to give the doctors the bodies of such persons as are not claimed by friends, for dissection.

—The bill to continue the geological survey and to appropriate $15,000 for its maintenance, was passed by the Senate 26 to 6.

—The house has passed the bill to repeal an act to amend the charter of the Danville and Hustonville Turnpike Road Company.

—It cost $1,253, besides the per diem of the legislative committee, to investigate affairs in Rowan. These things come high, but it seems we must have them.

—Senator Alford has offered a general law for incorporating railroads, giving any set of five men or more the right to build them anywhere upon complying with certain prescribed provisions.

—The committee has agreed to report favorably a bill to repeal the Railroad Commission act, and providing for a board of assessors, three in number, to be appointed by the governor, by and with the consent and advice of the Senate, who shall consider valuations of railroads as under the act of 1878.

—The legislative committee to investigate affairs in Rowan county has decided to favor the abolition of the county organization, the territory to revert back to its original jurisdiction of Bath and Fleming counties. Both counties protest. The report rather censures Judge Cole, but manages to straddle the issue as to whether he should be ousted or not for misfeasance in office.

NEWS CONDENSED.

—Liquor license has been placed at $800 in Somerset.

—W. F. Spaulding, a wealthy citizen of Lebanon, is dead.

—During the last 16 years 26,000 sailors on British ships are said to have been lost at sea.

—Since January 1, 1888, the State of Kentucky has paid $1,123,085.77 on school warrants.

—Thirty-five counties in Michigan have adopted prohibition—Oscoda being the last by 55 majority.

—The Reading strike has been declared off by the Knights of Labor, who were beaten on every point.

—The poisonous green stamp will stay with us, the postoffice committee having refused to order a change.

—James Adams, whose son was killed by the Southern road in Scott county, was awarded $15,000 damages.

—A great many lives were lost during the late terrible blizzard in the East and vessels in the Atlantic went down by the score.

—San Francisco announces that she is at last free from small-pox. During its prevalence there were 473 cases and 51 deaths.

—Mrs. Emma Robinson was burned to death in Fleming by her dress catching fire while she was burning litter in her yard.

—The Hatfields have been taken back to Pike. It cost $3,906.20 to bring them to Louisville and West Virginia should be made to pay it.

—All the engineers and firemen of the Santa Fe, 2,200 in number, walked out last week because the company ordered them to haul "Q" cars.

—John Dean, of Belleville, Ohio, killed his wife with a hatchet and then cut his throat. They were aged and wealthy but lived in a miserly manner.

—A duel ending in the death of both combatants occurred at Springerville, Arizona, between Wm. Pitman and a man named Blaine. A quarrel over cards.

—The Loyal Legion, composed of officers who served with credit and distinction in the Union service during the late war, refuses to admit Senator Ingalls to membership.

—A 12-year-old hen is one of the curiosities of the Detroit poultry show which laid 54 eggs and raised 17 chickens last year. The average life of a hen is said to be 4 years.

—The governor of Alabama commuted the sentence of Twileton Steele just as he was being taken out to be hung for the murder of a woman, whose body he burned to hide his crime.

—The Indiana prohibitionists have nominated a full ticket and adopted a platform which opposes all liquor legislation, except absolute prohibition; recognizes the Women's Temperance Union as an ally; demands a free ballot unrestrained by sex and favors a more equitable system of pensions. Four women were placed upon the State executive committee.

—At Winchester, O., a mob of farmers tarred and feathered two Mormon elders who have been endeavoring to hold meetings in that neighborhood. After the ceremony they were chased across the Ohio river.

—After careful physical examination an insurance company it said to have rejected President Cleveland's application for a $50,000 policy on his life. Still the people are ready to renew the four-year contract for his services at $50,000 per year.—[Times.]

—Gen. Boulanger, commanding a division of the French army, has been retired from active service because he went to Paris disguised to see his sick wife, after his application to do so had been rejected. He thereupon threatens to raise an army of his own and make war on the Carnot government.

—The Hancock Veteran Association of Philadelphia, sent Senator Joe Blackburn a handsome floral stand of the National colors. "For so ably defending the memory of our dead heroes, Gen. George B. McClellan and Gen. Winfield Scott Hancock," and they were exhibited on his desk, to the great disgust of Ingalls.

—Gen. Echols sold the elevated railway on the river front in Louisville to Edward Pardee and F. H. Davis for $1,000,000. The payment consisted of 500 $1,000 bonds of the road and a note payable in gold March 1, 1908, bearing 6 per cent. interest. The sale is supposed to be due to the reorganization of the Chesapeake & Ohio by the Drexel-Morgan people.

DANVILLE, BOYLE COUNTY.

—Rev. H. C. Morrison preached a sermon Sunday night addressed especially to the young people and children.

—Albert Klien, a tailor by trade, and the musician who went the rounds with the Knights of Pythias, in their presentation recently of the Play of Damon & Pythias, has skipped out, leaving his landlady, Mrs. Sallie Steinbergen, to mourn over an unpaid board bill of $7.

—Evan S. Warren is again in the employ of the Deering twine binding machine company. He proposes to make Rome howl the coming season. C. R. Anderson has sold his interest in the flouring mill and elevator to I. M. Dunn, late of Lebanon, for $8,500. The firm is now Smith & Dunn.

—Mr. W. D. Scruggs, of Lexington, spent Sunday with Danville friends. Mr. J. C. Twyman, of Lexington, a former citizen of Danville, is in town today.

—Mr. W. S. Nichols, of Rockcastle, is here on a visit to his father's family. Gen. S. S. Fry has returned to Frankfort.

—Mr. Walker Fry will shortly move to Memphis. Miss Lettie Shackelford, of Lebanon, is visiting Miss Bettie Fisher. The young ladies social club was handsomely entertained by Miss Emma W. Weisgar Friday night.

—Miss Annie Cecil, of Georgetown, will be the guest of Miss Theresa Worthington, the present week. Miss Zoe Welsh returned Saturday from Washington City, where she has been visiting Miss Whitthorne. The Misses McElroy, who have been visiting Miss Sue McDowell, have returned to their home in Springfield.

—The marriage of Miss Bertie Boyle, of this place, to Mr. Pierce Butler, of Louisville, is announced for the 23d inst. Mr. J. E. Farris and family, of Stanford, are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Price. Miss Nannie Gilmore, of Somerset, is visiting Mrs. W. F. Evans. Mrs. G. P. Turner is visiting relatives in Louisville.

—Six or seven years ago John Rowsey shot and killed a young man named John Lammie, in the country back of Parksville. Rowsey was promptly tried and honorably acquitted by the examining court. The writer of this heard the proof and is free to say that a better case of self defense never came under his observation, nor was ever heard of by him.

—A large number of witnesses were examined and there was neither a missing nor a weak link in the entire chain of evidence which clearly demonstrated Rowsey's justification. Disinterested people supposed the affair ended and had ceased to think of it and yet the last grand jury indicted Rowsey for murder and Sunday deputy sheriff, J. M. Bailey, and jailer F. M. Shumate, armed with a bench warrant, arrested him and committed him to jail, where he now is, but where is not likely to remain.

—Although a poor man Rowsey has friends who will see that justice is done him.

—The jury in the case of Mat Brooks, the last one tried of the alleged White-cotton murderers, disagreed on Saturday morning and were discharged. The jury was from Garrard county. John Hammer, convicted of rape at the last September term and given ten years in the penitentiary, was sentenced on Friday, a motion for a new trial being overruled.

—Davies Allen Powell, the young man charged with stealing a horse in Grayson county, Texas, near Sherman, and for whom the governor of that State had made a requisition on Gov. Buckner, was ordered into the custody J. T. May to be taken back to Sherman. Mr. May started on the noon train with his prisoner.

—Much sympathy was felt for the young man and the innocent looking young girl (nee Miss Linney, of this county) whom he married last November, but the evidence left Judge Morrow no alternative, but to send him back to answer the serious charge against him.

—Powell's father is a respected citizen and the young man, not yet 21 years old, was named after Dr. Daviess Thompson and Phil Allen, of Harrodsburg, two army comrades of the elder Powell.

Saving the Country.

A mass convention of the prohibitionists of Lincoln county, if an assemblage of a baker's dozen of them can be so designated, met in the county court room Saturday afternoon and proceeded to business by the election of James T. Hackley chairman and W. B. Hansford secretary. On motion a committee of five consisting of Elds. Joseph Ballou and J. Q. Montgomery, P. L. Simpson, Clark Cash and Lewis Daddler was appointed to adopt resolutions expressive of the sense of the meeting. They retired and when some "brother," as the members were called, made some motion the chair refused to entertain it saying "there are so few of us we had better wait for the return of the committee." Bro. Ballou had prepared the resolutions in advance, but the committee staid out long enough to make believe they were writing them and then that gentleman read them to the meeting. They were pretty bilious as will be seen below and its author evidently seems to believe that "we" have things in a sling. They were adopted with some slight amendments and then it was proposed to name a county committee. After a good deal of talk it was finally agreed to appoint John O. Neal, chairman, Adam Carpenter, treasurer, and W. B. Hansford secretary. As nobody seemed exactly to understand what anybody else was driving at, it took a good deal of time to agree that Hansford, W. R. Veatch and Charley McRoberts should represent the county at the district convention, which meets at Harrodsburg next Saturday and that Ballou, Hansford, Veatch, McRoberts, P. L. Simpson and Felix Albright should be the representatives at the State Convention. Then it was decided that "the party" should run a candidate for Congress in this district and Green Clay Smith and Daniel Curry were placed in nomination, the former by Dr. Traylor and the latter by Bro. Ballou. Then Clark Cash remarked: "I nominate Preacher Montgomery." The nomination took like a flash, Curry was withdrawn and Montgomery beat Smith three to one. The delegates were accordingly instructed to vote for him at the district convention, though he mildly protested that he was not the proper man to nominate as he was but little known outside of the county. The delegates to the State convention were instructed to vote for Clinton B. Fisk for president and Cramfield for vice-president and then after a speech by Bro. Ballou the "convention" adjourned. The resolutions adopted are as follows:

At a meeting of the prohibitionists at the Court-House in Stanford March 17th 1888, the following resolutions were read and adopted:

1. That the meeting appoint an executive committee of five persons who shall act for the present year in the interest of the cause of prohibition, which committee when organized shall have power to call public meetings, whenever in their judgment they may think proper, or when called upon to do so by any three members of the party who may think it for the good of the cause.

2. That we send delegates to the district convention at Harrodsburg the 23d day of March and also to the State convention which meets in Louisville April 12th.

3. That we favor the nominating of county, State and National tickets for all the offices to be filled the present year.

4. That the executive committee be requested to adopt a plan by which a fund may be raised for the purpose of circulating temperance literature in our county.

5. We reiterate our devotion to the absolute prohibition of the liquor traffic in this entire country.

6. We denounce the license system as iniquitous and dangerous; a manifestation of moral weakness, seeking to share the profits of the greatest evil known among men.

7. We declare our purpose to support the candidates put before the country by the prohibitionists in the coming presidential election.

8. We believe that men who act upon principle can afford to vote with the minority, if need be, convinced that right will prevail.

9. That the gratitude of all lovers of temperance and legal prohibition is due the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, and we recognize their efficiency and self sacrificing devotion to principle.

10. We deem it unwise to encumber the cause of prohibition in the approaching national contest, with the question of female suffrage. We therefore request that this matter be eliminated from the National platform. This request is made in no spirit of opposition to female suffrage.

11. We consider all officers, whose duty it is to enforce the laws and who fail or refuse to discharge such duty, as betraying a public trust, violating their official oaths and therefore of the most dangerous criminals themselves and unworthy of the confidence and support of the people.

—President Cleveland celebrated the 51st anniversary of his birthday Sunday.

—At Germansburg, N. Y., Robert Barber, a farm hand, beat Richard Mason and his wife, an aged couple, into insensibility, and pouring coal oil upon their bodies, set them on fire and fled. Mason crawled from the burning building, but his wife was burned to a crisp. Barber was captured, and a threatened mob has probably wreaked vengeance upon him before this time as it should.
